If you liked to read this article on the drawing of Goku, you should read these too: 1 Draw a rock wrinkle The center of the eyes will be. Take a pencil or a pen and draw a small horizontal line, which will be the rocket between the eyes of Goku. Then, trace 2 angled lines that extend from each side and point to the other one. [1] 2 Draw angled eyebrows that extend from each side of the wrinkle. Place the tip of the pen or pencil at the end of the horizontal line of the eyebrow wrinkle and trace a curved line up and down from the wrinkle. Make the line curve about 4 times the length of the wrinkle line. To draw the top of the eyebrow, draw another curved line parallel to the line you have just drawn, but to enlarge it at the end and draw a vertical line to join them. [2] You can shade the eyebrow with a pen or a colored pencil. Advertising 3 Make a circular pupil under the eyebrow. Draw a semicircle that extends from the bottom of the eyebrow. Position it near the point where the eyebrow meets the sign of wrinkles and fill the pupil so that it is completely dark. [3] 4 Draw the lower and side part of the eye. Make a small vertical line between the pupil and the wrinkle line. Draw another vertical line on the opposite edge of the line from the eyebrow into a way so that it is equal with the short line you have just done. Then draw a horizontal line coming off the outer line towards the center of the eye. Repeat these steps to make the opposite eye. [4] Make the lower horizontal line about half of the lower part of the eye. 5 Create a small nose under the roar of the eyelashes. Leave space of the same size as the eyebrows directly under the horizontal wrinkle line and creates a vertical line that is long as you want the nose to be. Then, trace a horizontal line that turns to the left of this vertical line so that the nose now looks like a back "the back. [5] Tip: To add more details to the nose, draw a V form under the horizontal line and trace a line-angled line from the one of the nose to the right spot of a à à à à è. 6 Draw a crooked smile for your mouth directly under the nose. Evviva Because most of the emphasis is on Goku's eyes, the mouth is much easier to draw. Make a line that curves towards the high with a corner to the right. Then, take a small vertical line at every end to make it look like Goku is smiling or smiling. [6] You can make the mouth of Goku in any form you want. Draw a simple curved line to make an easy smile, for example. Advertising 1 Add lines to indicate the cheekbones and re-entertainment of the chin. Make 2 small horizontal lines directly under the mouth that are 1/2 of the size of the mouth. These will make the indent of the chin. To make the cheekbones, draw 2 slightly curved lines below 1 Then draw a line under the other eye.[7] The zygion lines will also help to define the eyes themselves. 2 Draw the outline of the head from the temples to the pointed chin. Make a dot close to each of the Goku temples to create 2 small signs. Pull down from every point to the jaw. Make the jaw reach a curved point.[8] You will now have Goku Goku profilefrom his temples to the chin. 3 Sketch a big ear on each side of Goku's head. Put the pen or pencil in one of the temple signs you made before. Draw an ear that bends and right before descending and around the side of his face. To add details to the ear, make a line that bends right and descends to the top of the ear and the center of the ear. Then, make a curve from below to right near the ear lobe. [9] Repeat this going in the opposite direction to make the other ear. Elongate your ears until they are level with the bottom of Goku's nose. 4 Create large triangular hair through its head. Put the pen or pencil on the center of the Goku front and take it down to 1 of the eyes. Move the pen or pencil back to create a large triangle shape. Repeat this on the forehead before making large triangles extending from the sides and from the top of Goku's head. [10] Tip: Goku usually has black hair unless it is in Super Saiyan shape. Her hair could change to blue, gold, or deep red, for example, depending on the shape it changes. Advertising 1 Extend your neck and shoulders. Draw a vertical line from the angle of the jaw straight down until it is level with the bottom of the chin. Repeat this on the other side of the jaw. Then, put the pencil close to the top of the newly designed line and draw a straight line that moves away from the neck to 210 degrees left. Make another 1 right at an angle of 330 degrees. [11] These angled lines will form the rest of the neck where it meets the shoulders. 2 Draw the great muscles in the center of the chest. Sketch a small vertical line in the middle of the chest. To make the muscles, draw 2 lines that bend and move away from the top of the line in a "m" form. Extend them until they align with the line of the shoulder you drew in the last step.[12] To add details to the cavity of the neck, draw a "V" at the top of these chest muscles. 3 Put your vest on your shoulders. Draw a thick strap on each shoulder and make the lines curved towards the center of the chest. Let the lines taped. [13] The vest covers almost all Goku's shoulders, then draws the vest almost at the end of where the shoulders will be. Tip: If you are going to color in the drawing, make the vest a deep red or yellow-orange color. 4 Curve the ends of the shoulder and sketch the top of the Goku shirt. Look at the shoulder line you drew before and imagine going through the vest. Continue this line over the vest and make the line slope down to the left. Repeat this for the right shoulder but make the line curve down to the right. Then, draw a horizontal line under the muscles of theTo make the upper part of the shirt. [14] Do the ends of the shirt line touch the edges of the vest. Add a new question How do people draw these difficult things? It could be difficult for you, but maybe not for others. We are all at different levels of design. My advice: practice, practical practice If you're persistent, you'll become a great artist! Question How does Goku S55 draw? Copy the instructions in this article, but draw your hair longer. You can also keep tracking him somewhere until you can draw him alone. Question How do I draw the line for the hair? Look at a reference and try to find places where these lines start, then draw curved peaks. Keep practicing and eventually you will get it. Question How do people get the right shading? Focus on where the light will come. For example, if the light comes from the left, the shading would be on the right. If the light is in front, there would be a shadow behind him. It also depends on the angles. Question How do I get the right face? You can simply try to track the references for appetizers or you can continue to practice! Question How do you draw Super Saiyan Blue Goku? It is the same as Super Saiyan Goku, but with its blue colored hair rather than blond. Question Can I legally use his facial features for an anime I'm writing and publishing? Until it's a direct copy, you're good, but it would be a good idea to ask the Creator just to be safe. Question What kind of coloring method (colored pencils)? Should I use it? PrismaColor is a very good brand for colored pencils and a colorless pencil can be used as a blender. Typically, when you draw this way, you can use markers for shadows and highlighting effects. It's a good idea to get used to using all kinds of materials like pastels and maybe even digital design. Question How do I draw a specific pose for this character? To place your figure in a certain position, you use it to structure patterns (usually lines of figures in general) for a base. If you're drawing manga, the muscles are more symmetrical than in real life. So, the limbs and the like will be much easier to place. Question Can I use someone else's style when they draw souls? Is it legal? As long as you are just drawing for your fun and not selling or otherwise profit from your soul, it is perfectly beautiful to draw in the style of another artist.
